ACADEMIC PROJECT

Title: Comparative Analysis of State of Charge Estimation Techniques for Lithium-ion Battery

Members: 4

Description:

In this project, we conducted a detailed comparative study of various State of Charge (SoC) estimation methods for lithium-ion batteries, including Kalman Filter, Coulomb Counting, and Machine Learning-based approaches. Evaluated each technique based on accuracy, efficiency, and adaptability under different operating conditions. Aimed at improving battery management systems for electric vehicles and portable electronics.
